20 Storage and Use of Liquefied Petroleum Gas (LPG) Refuelable Cylinders

Liquefied Petroleum Gas (LPG) is the generic term used to describe propane, butane, or mixtures of the two gases. It is heavier than air and will therefore collect at the low levels such as cellars, pits, drains or basements. LPG is extremely flammable and readily forms explosive air-vapour mixtures. The main hazards in the storage and use of LPG are leakage, which leads to possible fire or explosion risks; and inadequate ventilation, which leads to the build-up of toxic gases due to incomplete combustion.

In addition to the general requirements of the Health and Safety at Work etc Act 1974, and the subsequent Management, Provision and Use of Work Equipment the Dangerous substances and Explosive Atmospheres Regulations 2002 also apply

Storage and Use of LPG in cylinders

- Cylinders in use should preferably be located in the open air, but where this is not possible they should be positioned so that there is adequate ventilation at low level to the open air.
- Quantities of LPG should be kept to the minimum needed.
- Warning signs must be displayed indicating the presence of LPG and prohibiting smoking and the use of naked flames.
- Appliances/equipment using LPG should be installed, commissioned and regularly maintained in accordance with the manufacturers/suppliers instructions.
- Regular inspections for leaks should be carried out. Naked lights must not be used for this purpose.
- Empty cylinders should be treated in the same manner as full ones but should be kept separate, and the valves should be closed.
- Cylinders should be used with the valves in the upright position.
- Cylinders not to be changed in the presence of naked lights.
- Pipework should be rigid metal, but the final pipe connection to the appliance may be of purpose made rubber hose which must comply with BS3212. This must be replaced before the date printed on it. Hoses should be kept as short as possible
- Clips should be used to hold the rubber hose onto the fitting instead of just pushing the pipe on
- Each and every LPG supply must terminate with an accessible emergency shut off valve immediately before the appliance.
- Regulators should comply with BS 3016 or BS EN 12864 and be correctly matched to both the type of gas and the appliances in use.
- All fittings and threads which connect to the cylinder must be clean and undamaged.
- Sealants must never be used.
- Where spanners are in use they must be those produced for the purpose (e.g. Calor Spanner).

In the Event of Fire

- Inform Race Control immediately they will call fire brigade if required.
- Shut all valves on cylinders.
- Keep cylinders cool by water spray if possible.
- It is inadvisable for untrained personnel to attempt to extinguish a fire involving LPG
