WEEKEND PREVIEW

by Scott Woodwiss

It's time for the British Racing & Sports Car Club to venture further north once again for its fourth race meeting of the 2021 season, as this time teams and drivers make a trip north of the border into Scotland and to the incredible Knockhill Circuit in Fife for two days of amazing club motorsport. There's set to be Caterhams galore mixed in with some top quality saloon car racing, which all in all should be more than enough to keep the returning spectators and live stream viewers entertained across both days!

Caterham Motorsport are out in full force this weekend as for the first time this year all five of their official factory-supported championships are on the same timetable together. The Caterham Academy make a rare appearance outside of venues across the border with both the Green and White Groups racing once each day in only the second occasion that the Academy has contested more than one points scoring race on the same meeting. Geoff Newman has a small cushion in the championship standings for the Green Group as he leads from Chris Fraser, Marc Jones and Freddie Chiddicks, while in the White Group it's already a tie at the top between Charlie Lower and William James with Harry George, Benja Hedley and Giles Perry all looking to stake a claim as championship contenders too.

The Caterham Roadsport Championship battle looks like it could be a pretty tasty one as last year's Academy champions are already locking horns on track. Tom Cockerill and Taylor O'Flanagan have a win each to their name already but it's Cockerill that holds the lead after he also picked up a 2nd place at Donington compared to Taylor's 4th place. Dominique Mannsperger and Gwyn Jones are already shaping up to be serious contenders too after their strong start and watch out for Adam West, Nick Timpson, Alex Vincent and a resurgent Hugo Bush as they all try to ensure the leading group gets bigger and bigger over the next few races.

There's also sure to be quite a melee over the fate of the Caterham Seven 270R Championship this year, in a year that could just see twice previous vice champion Blair McConachie finally get his time in the sun. With Tom Wyllys racing as a guest driver this year, it means that Blair has his best shot yet to claim the title and will be hoping that he can use this home round at Knockhill to his full advantage. However Harry Eyre, Rob Keogh, Carl Jones and Will Rossetti are all very formidable in their own right but whether or not they can collectively keep McConachie in touch or will get tied up in their own battles amongst each other remains to be seen.

It was a rather frenetic start to the Caterham Seven 310R Championship at Donington Park, where another former champion in the lower series took two wins to top the table heading to Scotland. Pete Walters managed to keep his nose out of trouble while some of the names that could be his biggest rivals this year weren't able to do the same. As a result, just three points separate James Wingfield, Lars Hoffmann, Harry Cook and Andrew Murgatroyd with the latter trio all tied on the same score, while others like Doug Christie, Ben Lopez-Appleton, Giuseppe Felet and Chris Welch all have catching up to do, starting this weekend.

The debut of the new-spec Caterham Seven UK Championship race cars a few weeks ago was something spectacular and the racing action that they produced at Donington certainly means that they will be one of the series to watch on the BRSCC portfolio this year. Stephen Nuttall made the most of the new package to pick up a near perfect opening weekend with two wins, a 2nd place and a fastest lap, but he knows that he won't be given a second to relax in any of the three races in prospect. He'll expect to be kept on his toes by Henry Heaton, Gordon Sawyer, Greg Monks, James Murphy and even Caterham CEO Graham Macdonald, who will relish the chance to succeed on his home circuit. This will be without doubt the fastest racing all weekend!

Away from Caterhams, there are two saloon car championships that will certainly add further to amazing timetable of track activity that's in store. The Nankang Tyre BMW Compact Cup Championship has never been to Knockhill before, even though the Scottish equivalent has frequented the venue many times in the past. Someone who has succeeded in both series is of course defending four time champion Steven Dailly, who won his local title before progressing to the "national" grid. He is one of five Scots hoping for home circuit glory, but watch for Oliver Faller, Ian Jones, Ben Huntley, Ray MacDowall and Ian Howes to give them as much of a headache as possible as they battle over those coveted championship points.

Also in attendance is the excellent ETSL ST-XR Challenge which put on quite a show back at Croft several weeks ago. While the overall points leader Simon Robinson isn't due to appear in his Fiesta XR2 this weekend, many of the drivers in the top 10 points standings after the opening races will be keen to pick up another strong score in a bid to start mounting some serious championship challenges. The bulk of the entry are Class D Ford Fiesta ST150s, featuring strong names such as Chris Jones, Mark Robinson, Chris Grimes and Sam Beckett, but don't overlook the XR portion of the grid either with Alex Causer and Paul Green in a pair of Fiesta XR2s alongside Jason Heneffer and Danny Leigh in their Escort XR3is.

Caterham provide high-octane thrills, with five Championships allowing progression from complete novice through to National Champion*

The best just got better

The Caterham Seven Championship (CSCUK) is back in 2021 and better than ever. A few tweaks to our top level Championship sees the introduction of slick and wet weather tyres with suspension upgrades to suit, so it's going to be closer and faster than ever before as drivers compete to become the Official National Champion.

During these event weekends drivers will fight it out for the SuperPole and the 1st place for each of the three races.

We're also visiting three of Europe's premier race circuits: Zandvoort, Silverstone and the legendary Spa-Francorchamps, making this a year to remember for all the right reasons!

One car, four championships

While CSCUK sits at the pinnacle of Caterham Motorsport, we have four other Championships designed to suit drivers of all abilities.

The Academy is the first step into Caterham racing, where complete novices take to the track in their own road-legal race cars. The Roadsport Championship is for those still new to the world of motorsport, providing competitive racing in a car and environment designed to improve your race-craft; and from there drivers can progress into the more extreme Seven 270R and Seven 310R Championships.

Each step up the ladder sees an increase in speed, adrenaline and competition. And, best of all, all four series utilise the same car, with affordable upgrades at each level ensuring a new challenge and year-on-year driver progression.
